Visible Ops Managed Services

The Power of Visibility

Information Systems Management Done The Right Way

Executives continually face the challenge that Information Technology delivery does not meet business objectives. Organizations are expected to adjust to technical solutions instead of the other way around. Leaders are frustrated by spending money on technology that does not add the promised value to the business.

IP Services acts as extension of your team, solving your business problems as our first priority. We work with you to understand your needs and bring our expertise in systems management to bear, delivering solutions that meet your requirements while increasing the efficiency and capability of your organization. IP Services has more than 20 years' experience delivering IT the right way, with the availability and performance record to prove it.

“I don’t consider IP Services a vendor; I consider them a true partner. They take the time to not only understand what our IT and security needs are, but how those needs fit into our overall business and IT strategy.”

“I sleep better at night knowing I have IP Services on my team.”

Joan Reukauf – SVP & Chief Operations Officer, Willamette Community Bank
